African Queen III

Sawubona!

This is the most common welcome greeting amongst the Zulu people in South Africa. Literally, it means "I see you, you are important to me and I appreciate you." This is how you want to make the other person visible and accept who they are.

With the new 'African Queen III' collection, we want to welcome and appreciate the diversity of in the same way.

Non-woven wallcovering collection

Taste collection

35 wallcoverings & 9 murals

The flora and fauna deserving protection and the artistic African craftsmanship provide the inspiration for these impressive non-woven wallcoverings. Elephant skin, ostrich and crocodile leather or gazelle fur provide a homely safari feeling. A creative mosaic of wood and textile-look ethnic patterns round off the selection.

Africa also shows off its most beautiful side in the murals. Zebras with their fascinating stripes, whether as part of a herd or alone and looking straight at the viewer; the savannah sunset and the artistic and idyllic depiction of a lion, giraffe and a family of elephants: every mural brings African flair directly into your home.

Natural and relaxed colours such as white, beige, grey and brown in a wide range of shades characterise the colour selection. Add a generous dose of glamour to the collection with shimmering gold and add colourful accents with fine, colourful accents.

«Shiboka! – Then I'll exist for you.»

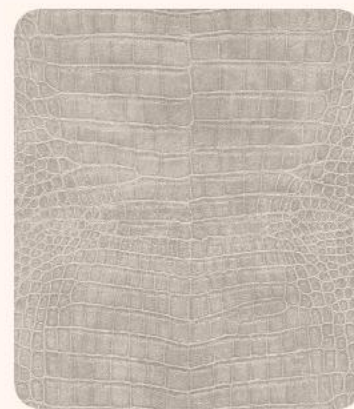

This is the response to the greeting mentioned above. With these words, we celebrate our new collection and see it as a tribute to breathtaking Africa.
